Well Mike,
I hope you're in the 8th grade.
I hope you'll all stay together!
This summer I'll see you
Good luck in the future
I love ya
Dad

Mike,

you are really a great
guy. I really think alot of you Mike and some how I wish we could have gotten together now than we have. I'll always feel close to you and I'll never forget you.

I just wish things could have worked out different for the both of us. Best

Principal

Two lumps of sugar please.

No job too big or too small for Mr. Blevins.

Yearbook staff places principal on pedestal

For the past two years, Mr. Harry B. Blevins has served as principal of Great Bridge High School. But for twelve years, he has been a major part of Great Bridge, as a teacher, disciplinarian, head basketball coach, assistant football coach, assistant principal, and now as principal. Not many men could fit this role as capably as Mr. Blevins. He maintains an informal, but disciplined, atmosphere and is always accessible to students and faculty. Everyone at Great Bridge knows that Mr. Blevins will listen to any problem with fairness, concern, and an open mind. Perhaps his greatest assets as principal are his ever-present sense of humor and this listening ability. Any decision he makes is for the benefit of the majority of the student body, and the faith he maintains in his students inspires trust among them.

For twelve years of devotion to Great Bridge High School, in numerous capacities, for contributing so much to the youth of Great Bridge, the yearbook staff proudly dedicates The 1970 Causeway to Mr. Harry Burns Blevins.

GB and school board leaders think young

Due to the efforts of the Student Council and at the suggestion of the student body, the Chesapeake Public School Board relaxed its dress code policies for 1969-70. The key word in dress regulations changed from "appropriate" to "extreme," giving students more freedom and responsibility.

The school board, led by Superintendent E. W. Chittum, was informed and concerned with all Chesapeake public schools. Continuing former policies, each high school was allowed to send representatives to school board meetings as youth ambassadors. This gave the school board insight into the problems of Chesapeake high schools.

Guiding faculty and students at Great Bridge were Mr. Harry Blevins, principal; Mr. James Calhoun, assistant principal; and Mrs. Nellie Tatem, guidance director. The administrative personnel cooperated ably with student body and school board, forming a working relationship.

 YOUTH ON THE MOVE IN ACADEMICS!

Scientific fields boast sixteen varied classes

Delving into the vast expanse of inquiry and scientific technology characterized the Science Department at Great Bridge. Headed by Mrs. Shirley Cahoon, the department offered environmental and academic biology, chemistry, physics and senior science. An experimental freshman course, Introductory Physical Science, was chosen as the required ninth grade science for 1969-70. IPS, a lab-oriented class, prepared students for biological dissection and germination.

The complicated world of figures, expressed through the various math courses offered at the high school level, opened to mathematical Wildcats. Continuing with algebra I-A and B, algebra 1 and 2, geometry, advanced algebra and trigonometry, and senior math, department chairman, Miss Elaine Griffin, originated an experimental calculus class before school for interested students. The Math Department also adopted all new textbooks for 1969-70.

In the scientific oriented world of today, the math and science departments capitalized on the interest generated in the physical sciences and made use of television and overhead projectors.

Reading laboratory becomes newest language elective ■

Language Arts reaped an innovation in its Department with the reactivation of the reading laboratory. Some hundred plus students had the opportunity to study under two reading specialists, Mrs. Laurette Hargrave and Mrs. Regis Crowley. Twelve English teachers battled the incessant question "What good will this ever do me?" And two foreign language teachers wondered if they would have to extend classes to weekends when the other two left at mid-semester. Replacements arrived, and teachers and students breathed a sigh of thanksgiving. Awareness of computer teaching came with the report on the National Council of Teachers of English convention. Miss Ethel Whitfield, representative from Great Bridge, gave up Thanksgiving festivities for meetings in Washington, D.C., and returned laden with ideas and brochures on "new English concepts." In a school of four languages, French, Spanish, German, and English, fourteen hundred students incorporated the new with the old and at home with abroad through cultural studies.

Social studies classes take in circuit court

Under the guidance of Chairman Mrs. Ida McKenney, social studies teachers attempted to impart to students understanding of the complex behavior of man and his culture. The history of the world, the reason for existence, the problems that have baffled men for centuries were explored through the diversified classes of the social sciences.

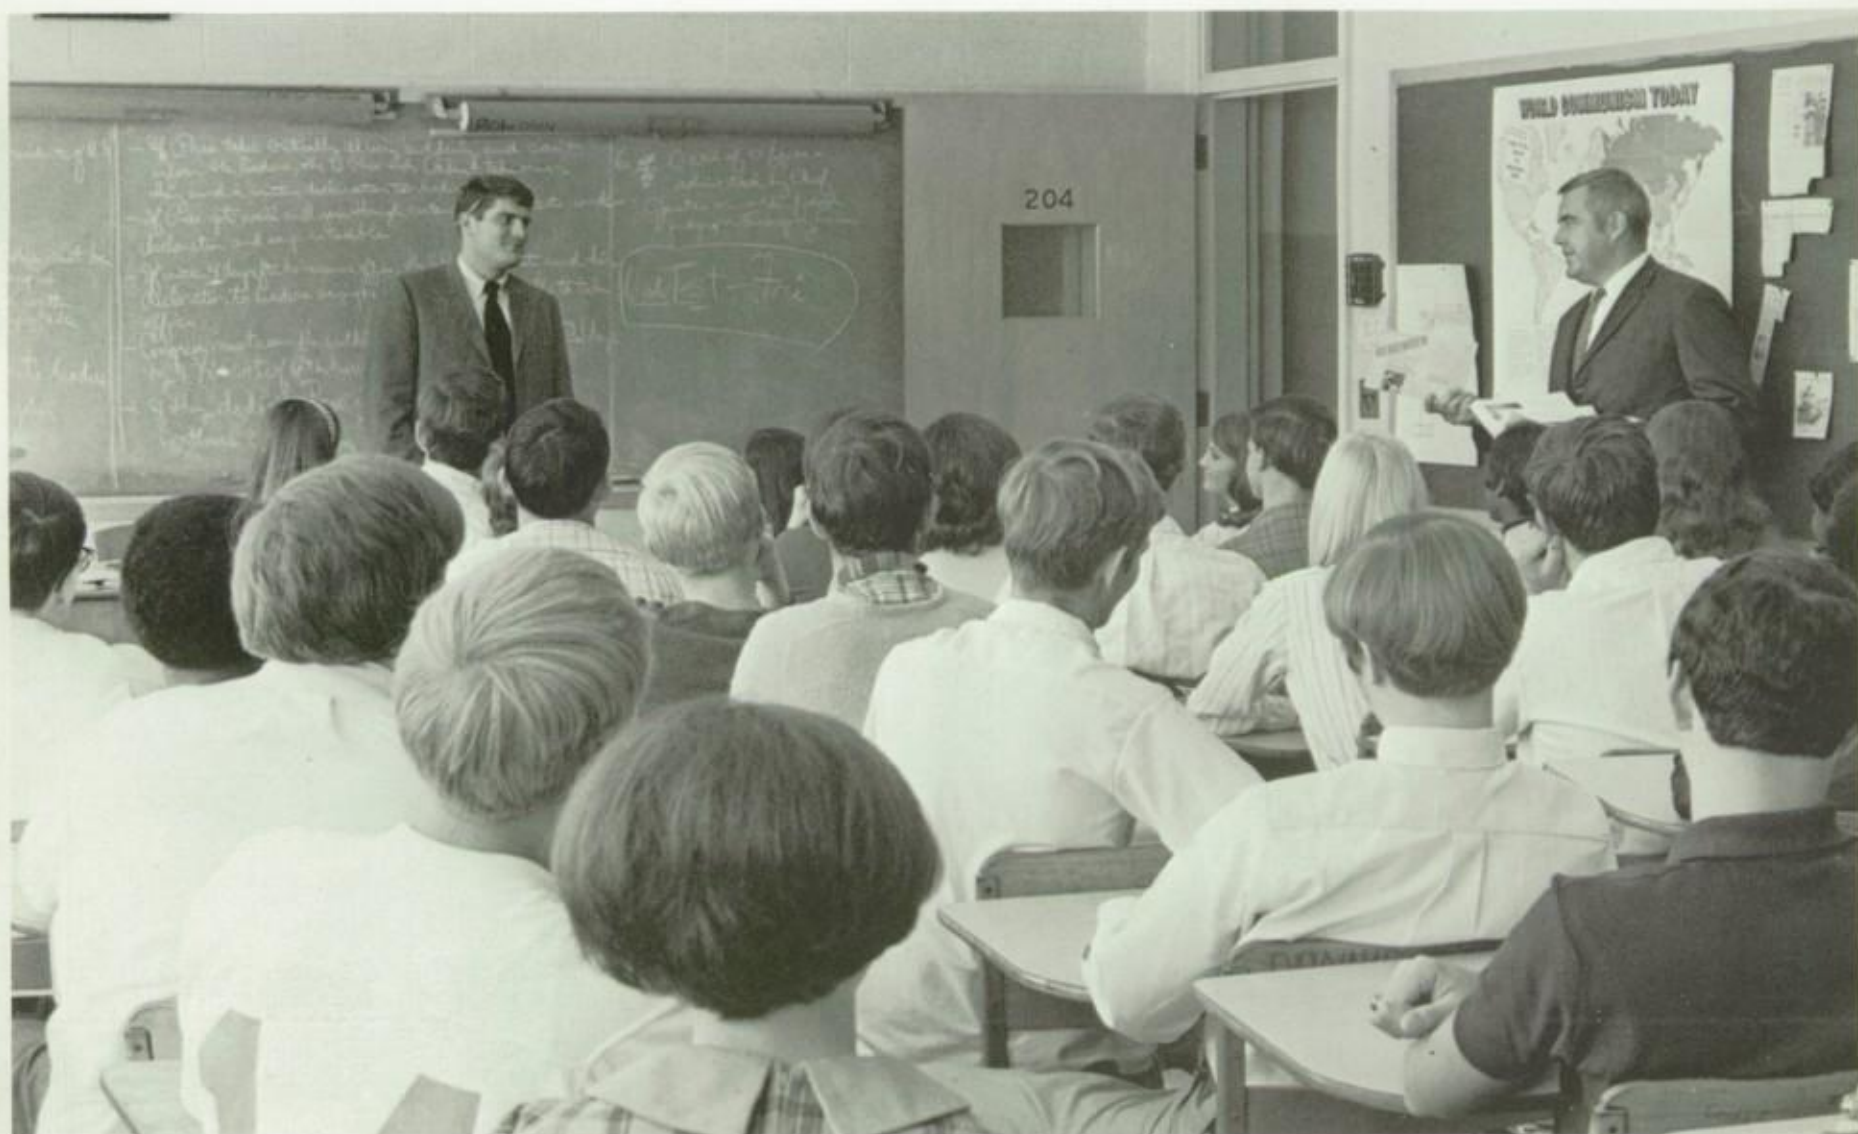

Field trips for government classes to local circuit courts and for psychology classes to Eastern State, a mental hospital, proved educationally profitable ventures.

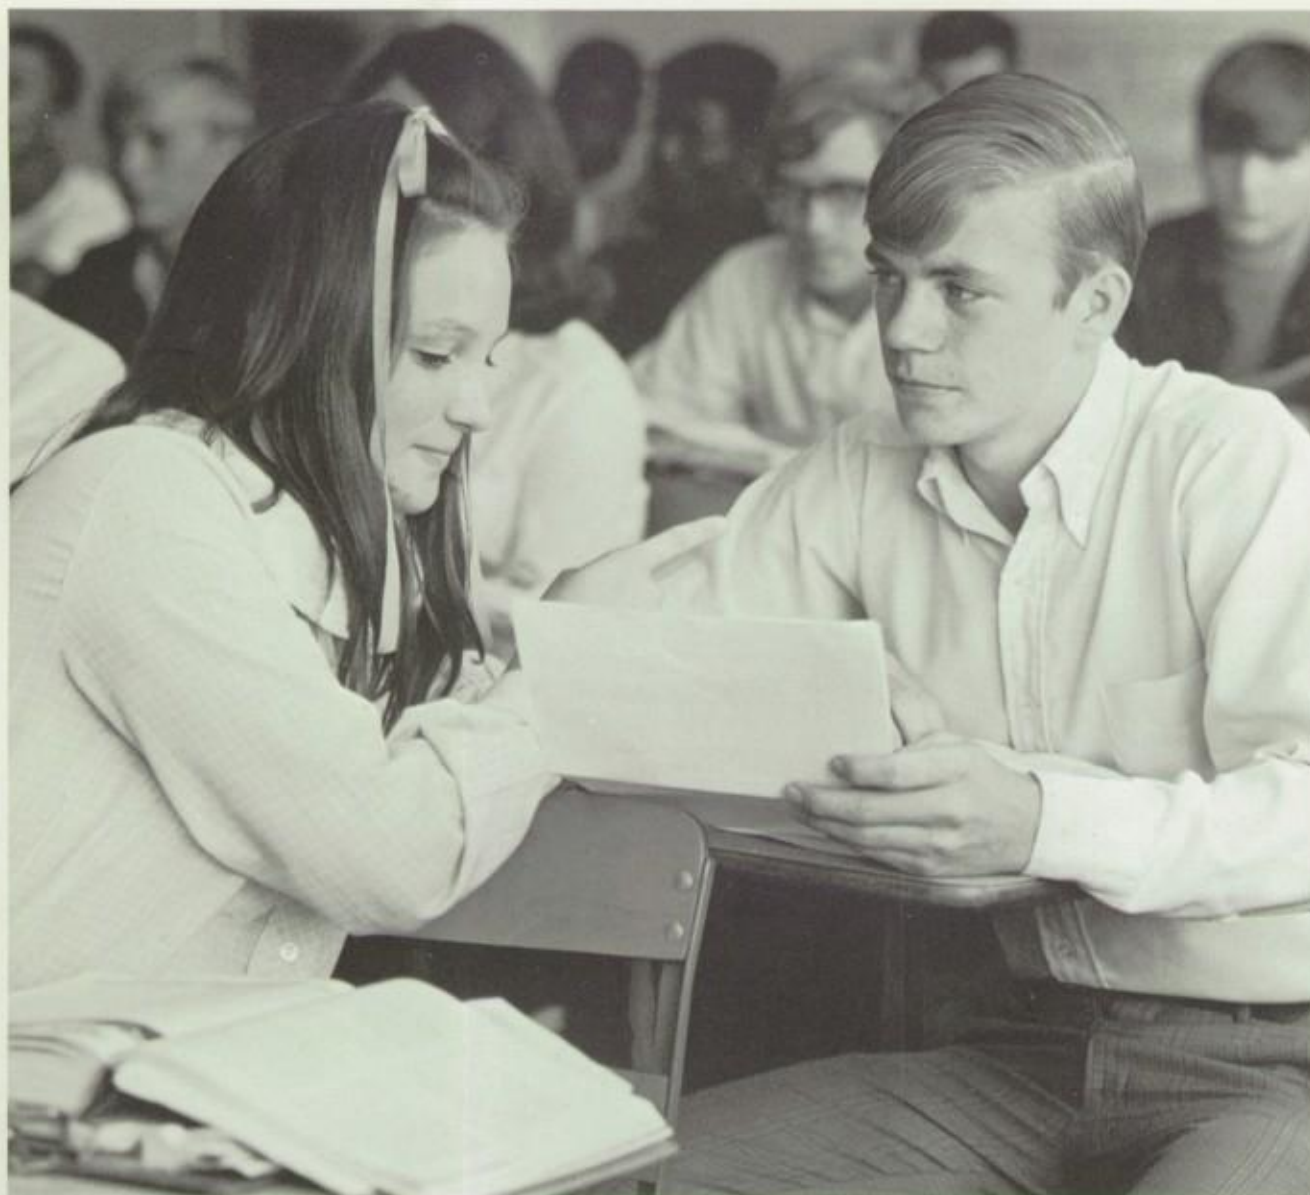

To comprehend more fully the complete study of the American man, social studies teachers attended seminars on the history of the American Negro in the fall. Exhibiting paintings and viewing movies enabled humanities students to participate in the imaginative creations of western man. A totally comprehensive study of the history of the United States and the history and geography of the world also brought the world to the doors of students involved in classes of the social sciences.

Choruses were revamped to include a new class, and the scope of music was widened as choral students entertained audiences all over Tidewater. The band completed a successful year, having placed an exceptionally high number, twenty-two students, in All-Regional and using various innovations to supplement their regular repertoire.

Drama classes enabled interested students to write, direct and participate in a wide assortment of plays presented to English classes. Imagination and talent overflowed as art students created, using chalk, oils, watercolors, paper, and charcoal.

Careers unlimited in industry, technology

On-the-job training in various areas—from hospital technology to cosmetology—set the basis for vocational and industrial training. Students worked at various jobs correlating with skills they learned through classroom study. Also, many Great Bridge students increased their knowledge through extensive training at Chesapeake Technical Center.

Additional courses in home economics, shop, and mechanical drawing provided electives for vocational-minded students. Future homemakers learned necessary skills through demonstration and participation. Craftsmen and architects gained insight into their specific fields by comprehensive courses offered. Business Dept. adds a new control reader

Eyes popped open; heads swam as experiences to remember came to classes studying business subjects. Under Mrs. Helen Davenport, chairman and COT and VOT teacher, the business department added a modernistic touch with a controlled reader, a device used to build speed skills on adding machines and typewriters. Another addition came with an offset machine, a type of duplicator, completely new to the students but used widely in the business world. Budding secretaries listened and typed and typed and listened, experiencing office-like situations set up in the electronic shorthand laboratory.

Returning to the staff after teaching in Texas, Mrs. Anne Brown brought the number of full-time teachers to four, preparing youth in skills to be used in college or business careers. Business characterized a department of necessity for youth today — offering courses such as general business, giving knowledge of daily transactions; courses in typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping, teaching toward a career; and typing and note-hand, teaching skills to college hopefuls.

The physical education department continued with leadership classes directed by Mr. Bill O'Brien and began the year-round sophomore driver education courses, utilizing team teaching.

Boys' physical education classes featured touch football, wrestling, basketball, track and gymnastics, with competition and sportsmanship stressed through class play-offs. Intra-murals for boys, consisting of basketball, volleyball and track, were held once a week. Girls participated in field hockey and field and track in intra-murals.

Four finalists and winner — Gail Thompson, Joyce Cottle, Linda Davis, Martha Cross, and Jean Parker.

"The first contestant tonight is presented wearing . . ." So began the pageant that named the new Miss Great Bridge High School. The world of excitement and magic brightened for fourteen lucky girls last March in the annual pageant sponsored by the Dorcas Tri-Hi-Y. Silver moons, romantic garden scenery, and jittery nerves came together to form the lovely "Moon River" setting. As the curtain rose, the girls appeared wearing business suits, followed by talent and evening gown competition. Poise was one of the major characteristics looked for by the judges Mr. Woodrow Baker, Director of the Chamber of Commerce; Miss Vicki Latimer, Mr. Joseph, Mrs. Nellie Bryan, and Mr. Dick Lamb. Music was provided by Choralettes.

Tense excitement mounted as master of ceremonies Mr. J. J. Bowman announced the finalists . . . "Second runner up, Miss Gail Thompson; first runner up, Miss Martha Cross; and Miss Great Bridge of 1969 . . . Miss Linda Davis." Martha Cross, a pianist, walked away with the Most Talented award, and Edith Pritchard swept away the coveted title of Miss Congeniality.

Prom theme delights students and guests

Hawaii in Norfolk . . . on the 17th of May, 1969, the Grand Ballroom of The Golden Triangle came alive as the "Isle of Paradise" opened its grass huts to the Wildcat sophisticates. To the pounding beat of the Originals, seniors and juniors swayed under south sea island palms and dreamed of that big wave complete with Hawaiian landscape and surfboards. Gorgeous girls in leis and grass skirts and boys in brightly colored shirts served with an air of native charm.

With the arrival of the nostalgic moment of the Senior Dance, the Originals played "My Girl" for the Class of '69. And the beat went on — until midnight. The hula "Isle of Paradise" rocked with the now versions of the horse and the frug.

Toward the end of the evening sponsors Mrs. Bonnie Cavender, Miss Elaine Griffin and Mr. William Wettering received gifts from the junior class. Showing their gratitude a second time, the juniors honored Mr. Harry Blevins, principal, and junior president Randy Forbes with gifts of appreciation for all their cooperation, time and effort.

The exotic night ended . . . the island became deserted . . . the dreamers carried with them reminders of the "Isle of Paradise."

■ Chorus groups sing for local TV station

Under the leadership of Mrs. Eleanor Mitchell, a successful new chorus class was added this year — the concert choir. Led by President Pat Skinner, Vice-President Ray Dozier, and Secretary-Treasurer Cheryl Lowery, the concert choir appeared at the Gardens-By-the-Sea, various churches, and in the annual school musical.

Mixed chorus elected Sandra Godfrey president, Larry Riddick vice-president, and Donna Totty secretary-treasurer. The Madrigal Chorus, performing at numerous churches and the Guardian Care Home for the Aged, was kept on pitch by President Pam Porter, Vice-President Alma Woodard, and Secretary-Treasurer Barry Debrow.

Choralettes entertained audiences at the Myers Home and in area churches and enchanted the Civitan Club. Choruses participated in Christmas and spring concerts and a choral assembly and performed on television for the Christian Broadcasting Company. Twenty-three members made regional chorus.

■ Band marches in local merry season parade

Ceaseless activity, abundant talent, and continuous practicing characterized the Wildcat marching band. Directed by Mr. Robert Martin for the fourteenth year, the ninety-three band members sported new uniforms, through the efforts of band parents, and proudly paraded to the admiration of spectators.

Escorted by R.O.T.C. flag bearers, a first for Great Bridge, the band was led again this year by head majorette Patricia Litchfield. Presenting captivating halftime shows, band music was enhanced by the twirling of the Super Seven. The fifty ninety-three marched in the Chesapeake Jaycee Christmas parade, entertained an enthusiastic audience in April at the annual instrumental assembly, and held winter and spring concerts, after which band members attended a formal dance. The marching Wildcats also performed at the spring band festival, and placed many members in the regional bands.

■ Readyng news copy — Diana Lambert and Pam Hooper.

Eye-straining job of proofreading falls to Carol Jackson, art editor, Sharon Caroon, reporter, Mr. Sanford Jarrell, adviser, Sharon Krohn, typist.

Paper sends delegate to SIPA convention

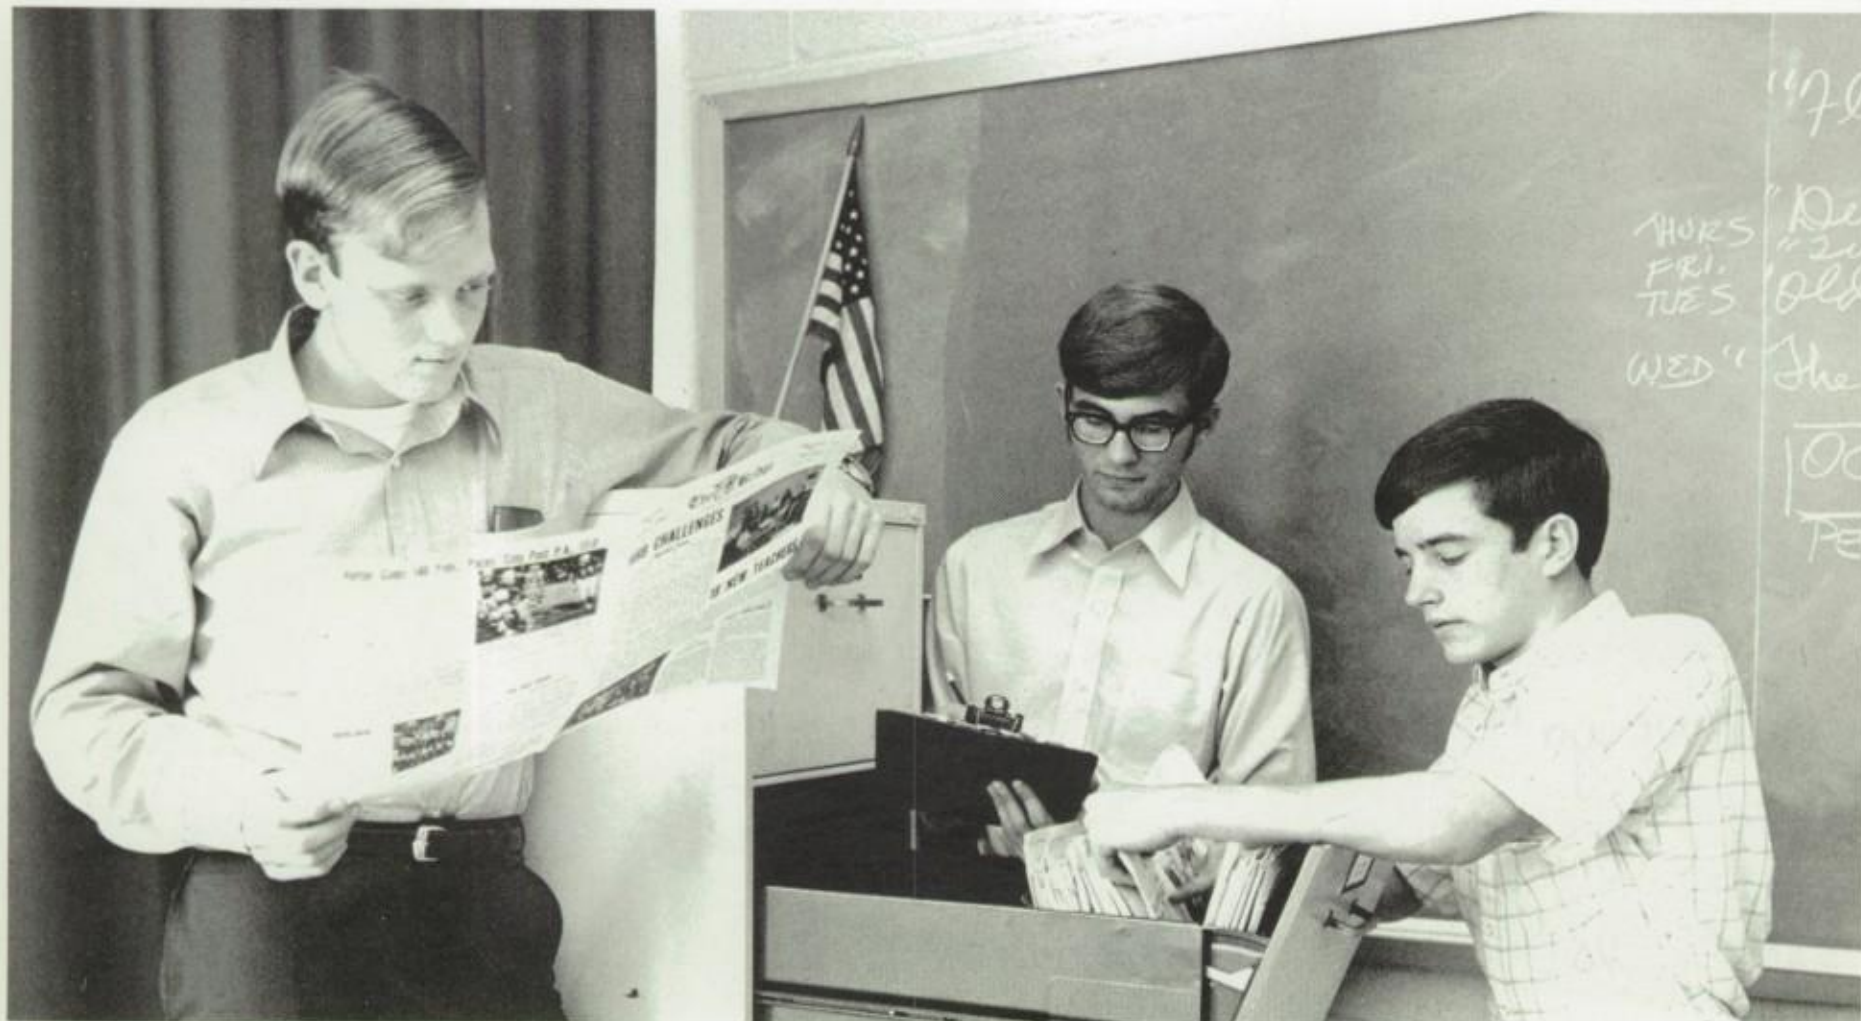

Under the direction of a new sponsor, Mr. Sanford Jarrell, the Bridge published six exciting, fun-filled issues. "When will the newspaper be here?" was the question that plagued editor Cornelia Baker and her staff day after day. Attempting to incorporate into the newspaper the modern views learned in the journalism classes held at the School Board Office, the Bridge staff experimented with various innovations. Pushing to meet the two deadlines per edition, the Bridge staff reported current news and Wildcat happenings at Great Bridge.

The Bridge served the community as well as the student body, and the exchange of newspapers among Virginia high schools resulted in reciprocation of lay-outs and article ideas. The Bridge strived to become the semi-official news organ of the Great Bridge faculty and student body.

■ Magazine captures a second place at SIPA

"Emphasis on Students," the motto of the current Bridgetown Scroll, evidenced that the school magazine remained a student publication. Youthful authors throughout the school marveled at their efforts in print as the magazine staff sought to publish not only their own literary creativity but that of the whole student body.

Selecting and writing . . . rewriting and fitting . . . cutting and pasting . . . a job well done rated one of the coveted second places at the Southern Interscholastic Press Association at Lexington, to which the magazine staff sent one representative. A completely new staff of five seniors, two juniors, and two sophomores, with Mrs. Phelps, adviser, in one hour a day in school and "umpteens" hours after school, produced an enviable publication. Two issues, packed with only student art, drama, essays, poetry and short stories, showed that Wildcat youth of 1969-70 discovered another innate talent—creative writing.

Yearbook wins first place in three scholastic contests

Discarded Alka-seltzer bottles filled the trash cans in the annual staff room as fourteen frustrated students attempted to publish the 1970 Causeway. The layout staff tore up page after page as modern informal layouts were worked and reworked and reworked again, and spent day after day planning and choosing pictures. The copy staff wore down pencil after pencil and tore their hair writing and fitting copy and making those headlines come out exactly — well, almost exactly right. Time after time the cry echoed throughout the busy room, "If only everyone realized how much hard work goes into the annual!"

Hard work produced its rewards, however, when Debbie Belcher and Lynne Foreman acknowledged a first place at Southern Inter-scholastic Press Association at Lexington. Then, at Columbia Scholastic Press Association in New York, five staff members, Debbie and Lynne, Phyllis Marlowe, Susan Chittum and Mary Beth Etheredge, proudly walked away with another first place for the Causeway. And for the third consecutive year, the annual captured a first place at the National Scholastic Press Association held in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Blinding headaches and crippling writer's cramp did indeed pay off!

Gym, library, office assistants aid school

In the midst of a deadlocked game, dedicated gym assistants braved the danger of flying hockey sticks to call, "Foul!" . . . Smothered by piles of books that need to be catalogued . . . Glued to the office locator to fill out those piles of yellow slips . . . How would the school survive without those student assistants?

Day after day, office assistants covered millions of hall miles delivering summonses, messages, and various and sundry packages. Duties included everything from answering telephones, mimeographing tests, collecting absentee slips to providing a cup of coffee and two Excedrin for Mr. Blevins.

Unsung heroes of the gymnasium, the assistants, hurried lazy sophomores out of the locker room in time for roll call and tried to impart a little of their athletic ability to clumsy freshmen. Called upon to illustrate difficult exercises and skills required to pass physical education, these gym assistants showed patience beyond all bounds.

Early in the morning, library assistants were already at work, stamping books, collecting money, shelving new additions, and running errands. Throughout the day they set up screens and pushed projectors down the halls. Library duties also included sorting and carrying the abundant stacks of mail that accumulated in the office for the library. What would the school do without them!

Student body selects homecoming queen

Man's Greatest Achievements . . . the theme of the 1969 Great Bridge Homecoming. Tributes to man's genius ranged from the "Invention of the Telephone" to "Women's Rights." A total of nine floats entered competition, with the Future Teachers of America winning first place for their float "Man on the Moon." Second place honors went to the Dorcas Tri-Hi-Y for "Einstein's Theory;" and the "Discovery of Fire," submitted by the National Honor Society, captured the third place spot.

Patricia Cousineau, chosen Queen of Homecoming by the student body, reigned with Deborah Drinkard and Nancy Young, senior attendants, and Ginger Tabor and Ann Harding, junior attendants. Blushing pink satin gowns characterized the juniors, while seniors wore lavender.

Since Homecoming was held on October 31, the dance emphasized Halloween, and the decorations suggested ghosts, goblins and witches. Blue-eyed Soul supplied music for 'Cats to rock on out.

Prior to the game with Deep Creek, Great Bridge former students enjoyed a banquet; and during halftime, they were saluted in the parade. After the game, alumni reminisced about former Wildcat football teams and homecomings while being served coffee and doughnuts.

Debaters win many tournament awards

Using the topic "prohibiting unilateral military intervention" debate students reaped trophies from numerous tournaments. At the Chesapeake Invitational Tournament, Ann Simmons received a first place. Freshman Alan Root was awarded another at the tournament at Warwick High School. Co-hosting a special, limited district tourney along with Indian River, Great Bridge compiled numerous awards. In March the team attended tournaments at Richmond University, where Ann Simmons and John Sykes won a third place affirmative trophy, at Longwood where Great Bridge walked away with first place. Other tournaments attended were the Southeastern District in April, where Ann Simmons won second place, Norcom Invitational Tournament, and the George Washington University Tournament. The Class of '70 came through again with the lively presentation of The Perfect Idiot.

Chinatown sprang up in the middle of Great Bridge with the presentation of "My China Doll." Directed by Mrs. Claire Gendell and Mrs. Eleanor Mitchell, the musical was greeted with much laughter and applause to the delight of the cast. The play revolved around the friendship difficulties a young Chinese girl and an American newspaper reporter encounter through the differences in their worlds. Comedy relief was provided by a Chinese laundryman in the guise of a detective as he pursued Melinda Botkins, a country swinger. Peach Blossom and Wally marry, and Melinda finally gets her man, that detective! Chinese lanterns, temples, and tea houses provided atmosphere. Main speaking parts went to: Joy Harrison, Pam Porter, Ronnie Chappell, Larry Aldrich, Georgia Ricardo, Lynne Foreman, Paul Holliday, Tom Root, and Barry Debrow.

 . . . Setting examples for underclassmen.
 Diligence . . . Accomplishments . . .
 Wiser . . . Almost there
 . . . That big year just around the corner.
 Ambitious seniors
 Registering relief that it's almost over . . . Plans . . . Indecisions . . . Dreams . . .
 An active year . . . Restless . . . Days turn into months.
 Pulsating heartbeat realizing finality
 . . . Graduation . . . Memories . . . Tears . . .
 GREAT BRIDGE HIGH SCHOOL ON THE MOVE!

 WILDCATS FOREVER ON THE MOVE!

Varsity 11 cheer for wrestling, baseball!

Eleven pert girls boosted the spirit of GBHS this year. The squad, attended Camp Farrar in Virginia Beach and walked away with first place and the Spirit Stick.

During football, basketball and wrestling seasons the squad promoted spirit with pep rallies, seemingly hundreds of pep signs and the spirit chain. The distaff eleven also made football-shaped name tags for the football players, treated the boys to a party, and filled balloons with bubble gum and suckers to decorate the football bus.

In gratitude for the boosted morale of the school, the football team invited the cheering squad to the football banquet and presented them with an autographed football.

"If you're gonna win,
ya gotta yell!"

Touchdown delight — Tricia Cousineau and Carol Jackson ring their chimes.

"We love you, Wildcats . . ." sing
Patty Boyette, Nancy Young and Chris Matter.

Mike,
What a year!
There were some tuff times but they've been straight
Be careful this

Sawyer and Geressy co-captain Wildcats

Lacking in size but not in determination, Wildcats opened the 1969 season by downing traditional rival Princess Anne, 13-0. Great Bridge drove 59 yards twice in the first quarter for two touchdowns. Lora Hinton scored on a run around end; Mickey Carey on a quarterback plunge. The Wildcat defense held as end David Sawyer threw quarterback Diehl for 7 and 11 yard losses.

Great Bridge rolled on to crush Cradock, 34-14. Hinton scored on 71 and 5 yard runs from scrimmage and a 75 yard punt return. Quarterback Carey netted two touchdowns and hit 5 of 10 passes for 114 yards.

The 'Cats trounced Oscar Smith, 33-7, as they ran their record to 3-0. Halfback Lora Hinton scampered for two touchdowns; Mickey Carey, Billy Batts and Carl East rolled up the score with one touchdown each. The Wildcat secondary intercepted two aerials.

Maintaining football supremacy, Great Bridge sailed by Cox, 35-12. Leading area rushing, Lora Hinton broke loose for four touchdowns. The Mighty Cat defense held Cox's rushing efforts to 66 yards. Quarterback Carey connected with end Stan Eure for another Wildcat touchdown.

GB 10-0 in regular football season play

It was the fifth straight as the big Green and Gold blasted Churchland, 47-9, with Halfback Hinton tallying 3 touchdowns — a 45 yard punt return and 8 and 22 yard sprints. Elwood Etheridge added three more, scoring on breakaway runs of 20 and 35 yards and 77 yard kick-off return. Ray Dozier also scored.

Then THE game—as the two undefeated teams clashed in a battle from which Great Bridge emerged victorious. Lora Hinton demolished the Presidents' defense as he scored 28 points. Mickey Carey scored on a conversion run in a tension-filled game.

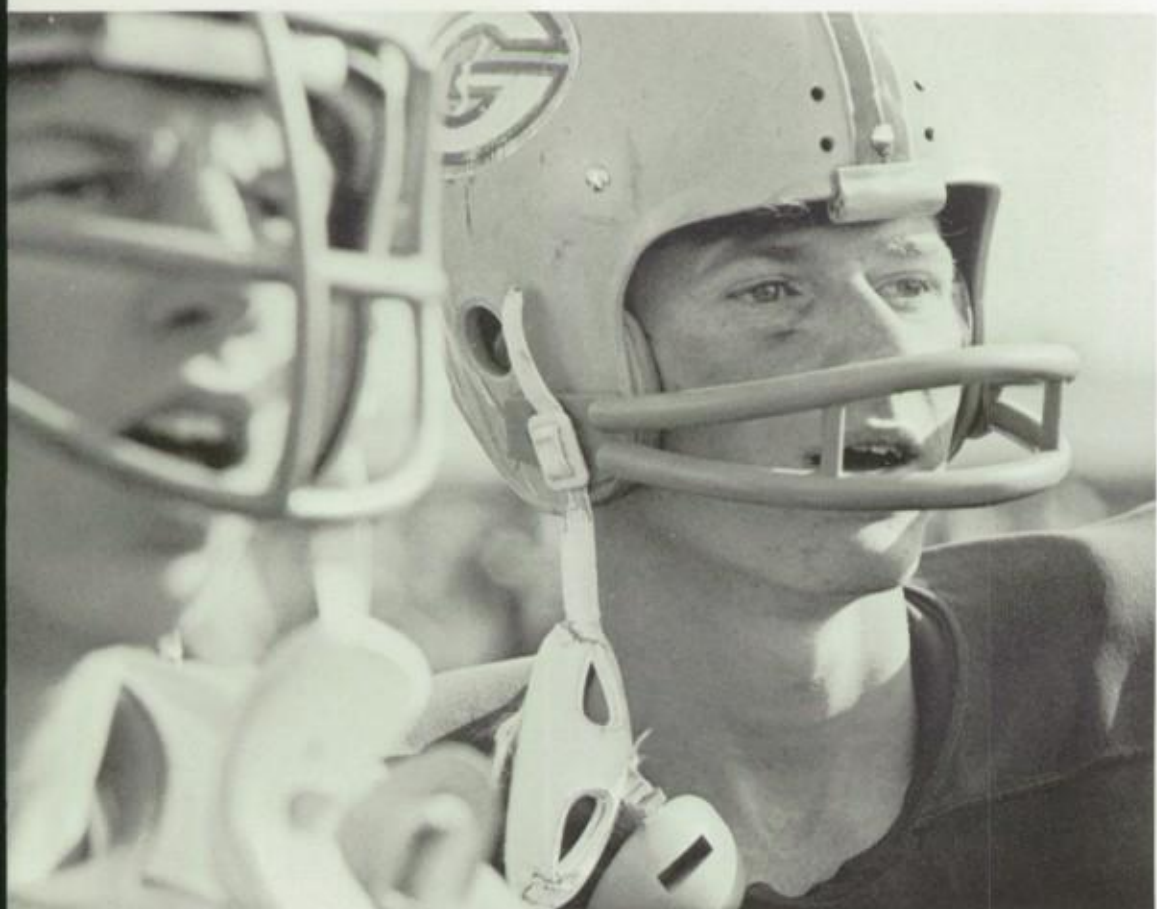

Momentum increased as the Wildcats roared on to shutout Deep Creek, 34-0. A delighted homecoming crowd watched Elwood Etheridge dash 75 and Lora Hinton 69 yards for scores. Stan Eure scored twice on 22 and 29 yard passes from Carey and Chuck Mamoudis. Ezra Godfrey also scored on a pass interception.

Wildcats compete for championship honor

Trading punts and fumbles, Great Bridge battled to a 21-8 victory over the jousting Kellam Knights. Elwood Etheridge streaked 34 yards and ten more for two touchdowns. Mickey Carey also added six points. The Great Bridge defense played a key part to win by frustrating the Kellam Knights' high scoring wishbone-T offense formation.

A determined Indian River team finally surrendered to Wildcats, 15-8 with Lora Hinton scoring two touchdowns and Derek Robb kicking a thirty-five yard field goal against the Braves.

The Wildcats captured the Southeastern District championship with a 10-0 record by defeating Norview Pilots, 21-6 on Thanksgiving Day. Lora Hinton scored twice, ending the year with a total of 22 touchdowns and 1249 yards. The other touchdown came on a pass to Stan Eure from Mickey Carey before a record crowd of 13,000.

The Wildcats met undefeated Hampton at Foreman Field for the Eastern Regional playoff and State championship, and lost 42-0. Great Bridge Wildcats were outplayed and outmanned by the Hampton Crabbers.

Record score broken with new high of 93

Astounding fans with a record-breaking year, the 1969-1970 Wildcat basketball team finished the season with an admirable 12-6 record. Achieving the highest number of points (93) ever compiled by a Great Bridge Starting 5, and maintaining the highest average points per game (76.1) marked the beginning of new basketball statistics. Playing against Norcom, both teams scored new highs to break existing records. The Wildcats scored a total of 35 field goals against Western Branch and Norcom to the delight of basketball fans, and against Oscar Smith completed 32 out of 45 attempted free throws.

Behind the rebounding of Larry Riddick, who compiled the novelty of 250 rebounds, the team scored a total of 544, setting a GB record.

Individuals statistics were also abundant as Larry Riddick scored a total of 323 points during the season with a 17 game average. His style and talent earned him an Honorable Mention award for All-Tidewater as he also achieved a new high of 25 rebounds per game. Also making and breaking records was Co-Captain Paul Old who totaled up 12 assists against Western Branch and 107 during the season. Stuart completed 80% free throws and Mike Mundie and Larry Riddick 43%.

Game after suspenseful game brought the 'Cats closer to the top of Southeastern District play. At the tournament, Great Bridge paired off with a scrappy Churchland team. In a tense, see-sawing game, the Wildcats suffered defeat, 55 to 66.

Four arms are better than two for Kenny Stuart.

Distaff Wildcats carried on the Great Bridge tradition in bringing home the City Hockey Championship. Playing against all of the Chesapeake high schools, the girls battled for the Sports Day honor, hoping to match their record of first place wins in all events last year — field hockey, volley ball, basketball, and field and track. Sports Day events for 1970 included an innovation, tennis. Aside from competition among city schools, the feminine Wildcats fought in intra-mural battles among themselves . . . somebody winning . . . somebody losing . . . everybody gaining!

Baseball Nine wins City-Championship

The crack of the bat; peanuts and crackerjacks; out — safe — home — typical reminders of the baseball season. Led by Captain Dennis West, the Wildcat baseball team placed second in the district after losing to Cradock in the tournament. With a district record of 6 and 3 and finishing 8-6 overall, Great Bridge won the Chesapeake City Championship.

Kenny Stuart batted an average of .270 and pitched a winning season of 3 and 2 along with Billy Parks' 4 and 1. Manager Woody Koonce received an award in gratitude for service rendered to the team. Completing his last year as head baseball coach, Mr. Martin Oliver, pleased with the Wildcat's record, passed the mantle on to Mr. Wayne Grimm.

Wildcat track team remains undefeated

Achievement characterized the Wildcat track season as notable records were broken and outstanding new ones made through quite a few blisters and sore muscles. Effort proved worthwhile as the outdoor sprinters finished an undefeated season, encouraged by Coach Anthony Zontini. Captain Phillip Ruckle received the most valuable player award by scoring 200 points, and was closely followed by Bobby Gregory, who throughout the season remained undefeated in the 100 and finished first in the city and district meets in the 100 and 220. Lora Hinton placed first and third consecutively in city and district meets in the low hurdles, along with Phillip Ruckle, who placed second in the district in the triple jump. Further recognition was achieved in city competition by "Fleetfeet" Cuffee, who captured third place in the 440, followed by Mike Mayo with fourth place. Bert Gibbs tallied up a fourth place in the city meet with a 45 foot shot-put; the relay team obtained second in city and district.

■ GB gains new coach for Wrestling Team

The wrestling team did not have an outstanding year in the terms of a won-lost record, but new coach Sanford Jarrell attempted to build a firm foundation of basic wrestling for the many returning boys. Consisting of four seniors, four juniors, three sophomores, and two freshmen, the team finished the season with an 0-10 record, receiving few laurels but much experience. Returning matmen will wrestle in Junior Olympics at ODU.

Opponents this year were district contenders Western Branch, Cradock, Oscar Smith, Indian River, Deep Creek, Churchland, and Wilson. Great Bridge also wrestled Cox, Lake Taylor, and Norfolk Catholic, out of conference. Consistently winning for the Wildcats were Dean Spruill at 185, with a district record of 6-1; Alton Geressy, 175, 5-1-1; Barry Old, 145, 3-1; and Jerry Younger, 107, 6-1. It was a great year for tennis — for the other team. Great Bridge finished with an 0-9 record but featured four lettermen and five returning players. Members seeking individual and school honors were Gene Hogge, Gary Owens, Charles Clemons, Mike Herring, and Billy Parker.

Under the coaching of Mr. Bob Broda, the golf team completed a winning season with a 3-2 record. Double eagles and birdies were rampant under the playing of All-regionals John Lee, who shot a 78 average and freshman Tommy Martin, with an 83 average. Other team members included Mike Klepper, Ray Conner, Connie Martin and John Reeves. Golfers triumphed over Western Branch High School, the Indian River Braves, and Oscar Smith High School.

SCA collects money for building a school

SCA President Randy Forbes and Mrs. Shirley Cahoon used initiative in service projects. The SCA gained student representation on the school board, and on the PTA board. Handbooks were revised, the constitution was up-dated, the student activities cards were printed and sold. To the delight of the student body, the dress code was altered, and the evaluations committee was set up as a student aid. Not only active in local affairs, the SCA initiated extra activities to collect money to build a school in peace corps country. The SCA also held orientation for freshmen and new students and a clothing drive for the needy and sponsored homecoming, a Christmas community show, and the dance. The Council also voted to build a new parking lot, direct Patriotism Week, and honor the faculty with a tea. SCA treated honor roll students to coke and doughnut parties and had a talent and variety show.

NHS float wins third place at homecoming

With a membership of approximately forty, the National Honor Society began another successful year. At the annual "tapping" ceremony, twenty-five juniors and seniors became new members of the club. The hard work put into the Honor Society float for homecoming resulted in a third place win. The members sold candy during the month of January, at home basketball games, in order to give a deserving member a scholarship at the end of the year. The annual February dance sponsored by the Honor Society was held on Valentine's Day this year. As usual, members of the club offered to help students with their studies in the cafeteria before school. Two faculty members were voted "Teachers with the warmest hearts" and were honored at a dance.

Refreshments in the Captain's Quarters!

Under the guidance of its sponsor, Mrs. Jacqueline Lewis, the newly-formed German Club named Sue Bishop to lead them through their second year. Just one of their many projects included cleaning the erasers in each classroom — a tedious and dusty job, but a worthwhile service. In order to replenish the treasury, the German Club sold Tootsie Roll Pops at the home football games. Innovating an initiation this year, new members suffered through the typical terrors of a German-styled initiation. Sauerkraut, "apfel strudel" and other delights of Deutschland composed the rewards of the vigorous initiation at the annual banquet. The club completed its active year by touring the cargo freighter Ernest Strohler off Lambert's Point where they were served refreshments in the captain's quarters. The ship abounded with the language, dress and customs of military Germany.

Spanish Club thrives under a new sponsor

El Circulo de Espanol finished another year under the leadership of President Mike Wood and Mr. Robert Ryan, new Spanish teacher who sponsored the club's activities. During second semester, Mrs. Helen Parker, the former Miss Weeks, rejoined the faculty. Her experience as sponsor of the Spanish Club two years ago was a great asset to the club.

The club held its annual Student-Faculty basketball game, which was tremendous success. Hilarity and even some athletic ability were featured in the riotous game. As a worthy service project, the club contributed the entire proceeds of the game to the Peace Corps School, an SCA sponsored project. Meetings had Spanish flavor.

FBLA float wins 2nd in Christmas parade

Led by president Joann Whitehurst, the Future Business Leaders of America completed another active year. Among their accomplishments, the FBLA float won second place in the annual Jaycees Christmas parade, centered around the theme of "Christ is Christmas." As a community project, the members played Bingo with the patients at the Guardian Care.

By participating in the Regional Conference and the State Conference the Great Bridge Chapter of the FBLA further extended their ideas on business management. At these conferences the FBLA competed in areas such as bulletin board originality, chapter activities, parliamentary law, public speaking, spelling, and essay, contributing to a year of involvement.

Members of Distributive Education Clubs of America joined the business world as they gained valuable knowledge and experience through jobs co-ordinated with study-programs. Opportunities for advancement were prominent, and Great Bridge students won respect from both employers and customers as they provided service with a smile. Participating in district contests of display, advertising, job interviewing, and sales promotion is an integral part of Distributive Education. The club received third place honors in the Great Bridge Fall Charity Festival, utilizing the unique display ideas learned in the classroom. Miss Elizabeth Lee and Mr. Frank Brothers, DE teachers and sponsors of the club, helped students to realize their place in the school and community. Hall bulletin boards and display cases carried the mark of decorating DE students and community store windows showed their handiwork.

VICA students place in 4 district contests

Led by President Deborah Drinkard and Mr. Graham Selby, sponsor, students taking vocational-industrial training, automatic members of the Vocational-Industrial Clubs of America, had a year of action. The club sent representatives to the district rally and participated in district contests. Competing with seventeen schools, students amassed honors in the essay, display, scrapbook, and public speaking categories. VICA also sent representatives to the regional convention in Arlington and the State Leadership Conference.

Club seeks champion through tournament

Motion unseen . . . movement unperceivable . . . mental maneuverings . . . the Chess Club in action. Involving intricate skills and intense concentration, players challenged the mind and stimulated the intellect. The Great Bridge Chess Club opened its membership to all students interested in playing or learning how to play chess. The club had the one activity going, and also set up an area meet in the cafeteria. To determine the Great Bridge chess champion, a tournament was held and numerous people entered the competition. The meetings, meets, and school tournament were set up by President Roy Smith and Mr. Byron Wyndham, sponsor.

Members of the Thespian Society formed the backbone for school presentations, providing backstage services, coping with minute details usually overlooked. The Society also formed the nucleus to draw talent for the annual musical, the forensic one-act play, and senior play.

Membership into the Society came mainly from the two dramatic classes, but other students as well joined to make this one of the largest clubs in the school. Not only was attention placed on actually producing performances, but several other aspects were explored as well — the art of make-up, direction, and television and cinematic technology. The Thespian Society chalked up a year of memorable events with the musical "My China Doll," a comic senior play, and a winner in forensic competition.

Le Circle de Francais keeps labs sparkling

Under the guidance of a new sponsor, Mrs. Susan Warren, and president, Joyce Springle, Le Circle de Francais provided fellowship for students interested in learning more about French speaking countries and improving their French conversational ability. The French Club sponsored numerous car washes and an up-to-date fashion show featuring mod fashions and current trends in clothing design. Through the efforts of the club members, lab equipment was kept sparkling clean. Le Circle enlarged its membership considerably by adding nineteen new French enthusiasts to the already overflowing roll of energetic club members.

Delma sells GB flags to increase treasury

Promoting school spirit was an objective of the Delma Tri-Hi-Y through the selling of Wildcat pennants. Other projects ranged from giving money for some of the gravel for the student parking lot, to visiting Kings Daughters Hospital for a thanksgiving party, to participating in the Powder Puff game, which they lost to Doria. The George Spence Fund was aided by the collection of money at football games.

In homecoming, the Delma entered the largest telephone that G. B. has ever seen. A monthly project continued throughout the year, that of attending a different church each month to observe various religious services.

Members of the Delta Tri-Hi-Y elected Cathy Richardson to serve as president for the year 1969-70. Under the sponsorship of Miss Judy Rice, Delta girls did a lot of cleaning, as trophy cases were kept squeaky clean and cars were judiciously scrubbed for a money-making project. The Delta also served the community by delighting 213 children with an Easter egg hunt. The lucky first prize winner was awarded a rabbit. Girls brought good will to hospitals as they visited patients and invalids.

Fourth ace award is presented to Dorcas

Another Miss Great Bridge was crowned as the Dorcas sponsored the annual Miss Great Bridge Pageant. Each year is sparked by this exciting event as the search continues for an all-around girl at GBHS.

Contributing two food baskets at Thanksgiving gave the girls a feeling of achievement; and offering a scholarship, made possible by bake sales, car washes and the sale of football bumper stickers all combined to earn the Dorcas another cherished Ace Award at MGA. Events were further spurred by the Tri-Hi-Cycle Derby held in the stadium after school.

Doria defeats Delma in powder puff meet

Doria Dolls looked back on an eventful week at the beach and forward to a challenging year ahead.

Reminding the Delma that the stadium is indeed Death Valley, the Doria Dolls defeated the Delma 16-0 in the Powder-Puff. Among its activities the Doria collected in teenage march to aid leukemia stricken children, adopted a "Grandfather" at the Guardian Care Home, and contributed food to Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets. Other Christmas projects included sending Christmas cards to GB alumni now serving in military, and caroling in the area. Also during Christmas Doria alumnae were honored with a pajama party and tea. Water splashed and soap bubbles flew as the Dolls washed cars to earn money. Fun and service made an eventful year.

Christmas packages aid men in Vietnam

Guiding the Bible Club in worthwhile efforts were Lesia Dunnagan, president, and Mrs. Claire Gendell, sponsor. Money-making projects consisted of car washes at Pangle's Texaco, doughnut sales, and a pre-Christmas bake sale. Money collected purchased packages of gum, cookies, cards and candy for American soldiers in Vietnam, gifts for shut-ins and for the children's home in Portsmouth. The club held clothing and toy drives for needy families and a banquet at the end of the year. Just for fun, members went bowling, went horseback riding, had a beach party.

Junior Civitan Club answers letters to Saint Nicholas

Branching from the Chesapeake Civitan Club, the Great Bridge Chapter of the Junior Civitan Club strived to fulfill their motto of service throughout the School and community. To secure funds to support service projects, the Civitan boxed and issued popcorn sold at home football games. Brightening spectators' views, the club presented varsity cheerleaders with pom-poms.

The officers met twice a month to plan two activities for the members to carry out each month. As a result, teachers' podiums were polished and pencil sharpeners were emptied. Because of the efforts of club members, Camp Civitan received $100 near the end of the school year. At Christmas, passing as elves, members answered Tidewater children's letters to Santa Claus. Ending the year, the Junior Civitan Club attended Atlantic Coast Conference.

Contributing to Great Bridge through service is the aim and motto of the Great Bridge Key Club. The club sponsored a "Keep Great Bridge Clean" campaign and painted their slogan on outside disposal units. While they had their brushes out, members decided to color goal posts yellow to brighten up the football stadium. The Key Club sold candy to buy a popcorn machine, and then popped corn to sell at football games, along with ushering in the reserved section.

Under the supervision of its president, Barry Braatz, and its ardent sponsor, Mr. Ronnie Lee, and in association with the National Cancer Fund, "Key Clubbers" collected money at the Great Bridge Shopping Center.

Membership reaches 32 athletes for club

Sportsmanship and athletic achievement were the qualities emphasized by the Monogram Club. Members were required to participate in a certain number of quarters of an athletic event to win a letter. The Monogram Club jackets, a familiar sight to all at Great Bridge, were sported by club members. President Paul Old and Mr. Martin Oliver, sponsor, directed several money-making activities which included selling decals and cushions at football games and drinks at basketball games. The Monogram Club provided individual and team glory for those boys who distinguished themselves in football, basketball, wrestling, tennis, track, or golf.

Inter-Club Council co-ordinates groups

An outgrowth of the SCA, the Inter-Club Council successfully completed another year as club coordinator. Each club in the school sent a representative to ICC meetings, and club activities and projects were first approved by the ICC. With SCA Vice-President Sharon Braatz presiding, the Council chose "Man's Greatest Achievements" as homecoming theme and supervised float construction. The ICC also joined with the SCA to complete the new parking lot by purchasing gravel. Keeping the school building and grounds in sparkling form was the incessant but accomplished task of the ICC.

Mike,
It's been fun
knowing you this year. Good luck in the future. Have fun this summer.
Maybe I'll see
you at the beach.
Love ya,
Jane

An ending . . .
a beginning.

Mike,
To a real sweet fly. Remember good old Mr. Farrell.
Never forget all the times in his class. Stay sweet and don't raise to much hell.
Love,
Rena

YOUTHQUAKE!

Coming on strong . . .
With brotherhood and love.
Another year gone by . . . Another page turned . . . Completion . . . Continuation . . . Progression.
Countdown . . . Ten years . . . Eleven years . . .
Twelve years . . . Of routine . . . Effort . . . Happiness.
Which way do I go now?
Advancement . . . Regression.
That world outside
. . . Petrifying . . . Dazzling.
Back to school . . .
After well-earned vacations.
Training and preparation for college . . . Careers.
Youth is today
. . . Now . . . The future.
Good vibrations . . .
Understanding . . . Peace!
Hope for tomorrow.
The art of living
. . . Learned and practiced.
Running . . . Toward a dream . . . Toward reality . . .
Seeking . . . Finding . . . Don't stop now!
A time of transition . . . Changes.
Ending one part of life . . . Beginning another . . .
A new day . . . A time of the young.
A time of YOUTH ON THE MOVE!

Mike - Co a really great guy!
 It's been real nice knowin ya - and I hope I know you always.
 You're the sweetest guy I know.
 Don't forget that party at the Holiday Inn.

Love ya
 Debbie

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The staff extends sincere appreciation to:
Mr. Harry B. Blevins — for giving encouragement
 when desperately needed
Mr. W. S. McIntosh — for giving many days of picture-making and valued advice
Mr. John Perry — for really working . . .
 drawing layouts, checking headings
The Faculty — for cooperating in time of need Fondie Mangum and Patty Boyette — for driving for advertisements
Advertisers and Clubs — for supporting a dream
 Without the cooperation and assistance of these people
The 1970 Causeway
 could never have been published.

Mike,
I haven't really gotten to know you real well
this year, but I tell you,
it's really been fun observing you. You're one of the craziest people I know. There's never a dull moment when around you.

Don't forget about eating candy during Bacc... I want you to carry some in for me graduation night too.

Best Wishes & Good Luck
to a really funny guy.

Mike,
 It's been some year in Bible class. May the Good
 Lord bless you.
 Best of luck, don't hurt

Mike,
 It's been nice knowing you this year. It's a good thing we're going to be out of the Holy Roller's class second bell.
 Best of luck to you in the future and have fun this summer.

Good luck

It's really been fun being in Psychology class with you - you've been a very likeable personality; friendly smile - Please leave that! you'll go a long way in life - May all your wishes come true because you deserve them all - Be good; have a good summer - (I don't get to much with it)

Lot of luck
